

CHC Careers & Out-learning

Newsletter – Issue#1

Introducing our first CHC Careers & Outlearning Newsletter, the aim is to provide parents and students with current information in relation to Careers, Training, Employment and Out-learning events and opportunities.

Each issue will also profile an LTI Mentor or Business that a student is currently working with. We appreciate the time, effort and expertise our Mentor's provide. In this Issue we profile Josh from Holliday Music – a local audio and film production business – See Pg 2.

MENTOR PROFILE

Joshua Holliday

Holliday Music

Student: Isabella Francis-Nieswandt
(Plantasia Advisory)

Tell us a little about your business...

Holliday Music specialises in audio and film production for musicians, creatives and other businesses. Live performances, music videos and event documentary are the biggest focus of the studio.

What is the thing you love most about your job? I love the collaborative process that starts when a musician or a client get in touch for a project. Sometimes with ideas but often without, I love working out a creative way to produce work that reflects their identity with my creative input.

I find it very rewarding setting out an ambitious goal and seeing the results.

What do you find challenging in your industry? The Creative industry has its challenges. Maintaining the energy required to generate creative ideas as well as working through technical tasks is one. I like to visualise the end goal of a project. That keeps me motivated and focused.

Have you enjoyed mentoring a student and have they been able to work on projects of real- value to your business?

Mentoring and teaching has always been a passion of mine. Having Bella on-board has been absolutely brilliant. She has demonstrated ability in the field and a passion to keep on learning. She has been able to contribute to more and more ongoing projects. I look forward to having her on-board in the future.
